

Freelance K-12 assessment writers/editors – ELA, Math, SS, Science

Evans Newton Incorporated (ENI) seeks item and passage writers with in-depth publishing industry experience to join our freelance team for upcoming test development projects in Math, Science, ELA, and Social Studies. We are looking for individuals to work on both freelance and regular bases. Freelance work will be done remotely, so we seek detail-oriented self-starters who meet strict deadlines and are comfortable working independently and online. You must use MS Word 2003 and be proficient in its Track Changes feature. Compensation depends on experience, paid on a project basis and paid on acceptance; rolling delivery schedule.

To be considered, please send your current resume, a cover letter with salary history, and two samples of your K-12 writing in your content area to hr@evansnewton.com. Please reference ENIW201-1167 in your submission.

About ENI

Evans Newton Incorporated partners with K-12 schools, districts, and state departments of education to improve student achievement. Our programs feature innovative strategies in coaching, curriculum alignment and pacing, and standards-based formative assessments. In addition to serving educators directly, ENI also provides content and services to publishers who create assessments, textbooks, supplemental materials, and educational software.

Due to high volume of candidates, no phone calls please.

Resumes submitted will not be considered without a cover letter, writing samples, and salary requirements. ENI is committed to the principles of diversity and equal opportunity. For more information on ENI, please visit www.evansnewton.com.
